ancient manor since 1500

una volta

in a small resort just a few steps away from the city of Cava de' Tirreni (Sa), there is a delightful place in the countryside where to stay at least “una volta” (Once upon a time).

An experience into the atmospheres of yesteryear, like “una volta”...(like the old days)... in the history that revives between the “volte” (vaults) and the stone walls of our house, an ancient manor since 1500.

Vaulted ceilings, ancient decors and beds, rooms with flavours of the past.

Welcoming and with every comfort,
where at every step you take, you can feel the creaking of the parquet's wooden boards, which perfectly fits together with the application of brickwork majolica, exquisitely hand decorated (ceramic tiles).

A delve into the annals of history, into the bright sunshine coming and warming up, grazing the bathtub at the hearth of the bedroom and conveying back your glance out of the windows.

Furniture, amenities and all details... everything has the particular taste of yesteryear...

Our guestrooms are equipped with:

Breakfast

Private bathroom inside the room with WC, shower and linen;

Freestanding bathtub inside the room;

Wrought iron double bed with bed-linen

Internet / free wifi

Smart tv

Air conditioning

Parking area

The hall with the fireplace, the usage of wood, the almost exclusive utilisation of natural elements represent just some of the features of a warm and welcoming place just like our home...

The kitchen with stones majolica tiles from Vietri sul mare, the handcrafted brass taps and fittings...everything has been brought back to what it used to be like in the past, just like..."una volta" (once before)...

Cava de' Tirreni is a small town of Etruscan origin, surrounded by mountains, the main feature of which is the Borgo Scacciaventi with its historical palaces with arcades.

Precious example of outdoor shopping mall, besides being a touristic destination today as well as it used to be in Roman times (when it was a renowned touristic resort chosen by nobility of the ancient Rome, of which you can find numerous archaeological and artistic evidence), thanks to its strategic position between Naples, Salerno and the Amalfi Coast.

In the evening, the city gracefully turns into a venue where people gather together in the several clubs, restaurants, pubs or they simply enjoy themselves, crowding the Borgo with arcades, both in the hottest and in the coldest days...

In addition to the ancient Borgo with arcades, Cava de' Tirreni is best known for the Benedictine Abbey of the Holy Trinity founded in 1011 by S. Alferio Pappacarbone and for its Mediaeval Castle, core of the historical Reinterpretation from 1460 of the "Disfida dei trombonieri" (folkloristic event which takes place between June and July).

The city is also a place of worship and a destination for the faithful and pilgrims, with its 23 parishes widespread all over the territory (between the historical center and the hamlets): guests can admire the Franciscan Sanctuary at the entrance of the Borgo Scacciaventi, the Cathedral, the S.S. Maria dell'Avvocatella Sanctuary with the Piccola Fatima.
